1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

3. Claims 1-4, 6-8, 10 and 13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over JP 2002-060,845.

JP '845 shows a method for prolonging service life of the casting die by maintaining the compressive residual stress of a die cavity surface for more than 1000 MPa (see [0003], [0028]) through a shot-peening and a nitriding process. Thus, JP '845 substantially shows the invention as claimed except it does not disclose the surface roughness. However, it would have been obvious to those of ordinary skill in the die casting art that the die cavity surface shall be maintained as smooth as possible such that to increase the heat transfer rate between the cast metal and the die surface and also to obtain a better surface quality for the cast article. It would have been obvious to obtain the optimal roughness through routine experimentation. With respect to claim 3, it is conventional to use chrome molybdenum steel for making casting die as acknowledged by applicant as set forth in [007] of the instant specification.

4. Claims 5, 9, 11 and 12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over JP 2002-060845 as applied to claim 1 above, and further in view of JP 10-204,610.

JP '610 shows to prevent seizure in a die by forming a dense coating layer having a lubricating effect and a thermal insulating effect and to improve the service life of the die by forming a nitrided layer containing iron sulfide on the die cavity surface. It would have been obvious to further include the iron sulfide of JP '610 in the nitrided layer of JP '845 in view of the advantage.

5. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Kuang Y. Lin whose telephone number is 571-272-1179. The examiner can normally be reached on Monday-Friday, 10:00-6:30,.
